Charleston County Bar Association Hosts Annual Meeting and Installation of Officers

Charleston, SC – The Charleston County Bar Association (CCBA) is pleased to announce the successful conclusion of its Annual Meeting and Installation of Officers, held on Feb. 27 at the Francis Marion Hotel. This event marked a significant milestone in the association's ongoing efforts to foster professional growth and enhance the legal community in Charleston County.

The gathering brought together local attorneys, judges, and legal professionals for an evening of networking and celebration. At the heart of the event was the official installation of the 2025-2026 officers and executive board that will lead the association in the coming year.

The newly appointed officers and executive committee include:

Officers

- President – Ravi Sanyal, Sanyal Law Firm LLC
- President-Elect – Mary Lee Briggs, Ramsdale Law Firm
- Secretary/Treasurer – Julianne Farnsworth, Farnsworth Law Firm, LLC
- Immediate Past President – Mark Joye, Joye Law Firm

Executive Committee

- Victoria Bohren, Gildan General Counsel
- Laura Johnson Evans, Shumaker Loop & Kendrick, LLP
- Alesia Rico Flores, Attorney at Root & Rebound
- Joseph Kaiser, Kaiser Law Firm LLC
- Lana Kleiman, Charleston Legal Access
- W. Greyson Land, Parker Poe
- John P. Linton Jr., Walker Gressette Linton LLC
- Daniel Martin III, Steinberg Law Firm LLC
- Ashley Pennington, Burnette Shutt & McDaniel
- Colin Ram, Colin Ram Law, LLC

Newly installed president, Ravi Sanyal, will focus his year on engagement. “My goal is to increase the number of member events, highlight the importance of mentoring and emphasize the importance of diversity in the legal community. I also plan to strengthen our connection with the Berkeley and Dorchester country bar associations as the practice of law is regional,” he said.
